

Sportectura: Architecture and Sport

Since Alonso Balaguers professional office developed in 1983 its first sports accomplishment (Club Arsenal of Barcelona), numerous works have emerged in such field, while important social changes have endured significant advances in the architectural treatment of such spaces. Urban sports boom goes along with activities directed to the increase of life quality, as a progressive advance in body care and the citizens physic and psychic urban health. Displayed here are more than 40 centers projected all over the national and international geography, as well as the analysis of the architectural resources used in such projects.
