

The Book of Love: Guided Messages of Peace and Healing

Mary Martiros was a student of the classical guitar, a teacher of young children and had just received her Masters degree in Education when, after having a grand mal seizure, a brain tumor was discovered and successfully removed from her right temporal lobe. Upon waking from the surgery, an unexpected and amazing spiritual journey began for her. This spiritual transformation has changed her life forever and has blessed the lives of those around her. The readings in this book represent several different guides who communicated with her during meditation and prayer. Through the love and wisdom in these messages, we become all the more aware of how thin the veil really is between the human world and the world of the Spirit. Mary lives in central Massachusetts with her husband, Greg. She has three beautiful children and two amazing grandchildren.
